

September 17th, 2019 - Back Lane

The Google Maps data for Herriard incorrectly shows the road highlighted below as Back Lane.

Back Lane actually runs from The Avenue and stops at the T-junction in Southrope. Many residents have complained about the delivery issues caused by this error.

Google, have not been responsive to requests to correct this mistake.

The B&DBC Road and Street naming team have confirmed the error and that this portion of road does not have any official name. Providing a name and having it officially logged (including with Google) has been suggested as the best solution.

There is a 12th Century connection to King John and the name King John's Lane is proposed for the whole of the road highlighted in heavy black above.
