BENEFICE MAGAZINE – November 2023
Edition for the Parishes of Herriard with Winslade, Tunworth,

Letter from the Benefice Ministry Team

I don't know if you feel the same as me, but I always appreciate the changing of the seasons. As the colours change, as the leaves disappear and regrow, as new animals, birds and plant life appears, there is always something new to enjoy. Those days where you start wrapped up in coats and scarves and end in t-shirts are sometimes unpredictable, but speak to the changes around us.

Sometimes though, this can feel a direct contrast to our own personal experience of the rest of life. It can feel like everything is changing but us. That the last few weeks and months have felt an awful lot like the ones preceding it. Perhaps we enjoy the consistency and stability, or maybe we find it frustrating or difficult. I personally find myself feeling both comfort and disquiet. On the one hand, the familiarity of the rhythms and patterns of life create a predictability that you can rest in. However, as a natural-born fidgeter, I find myself looking for what might be new and different. And that's why I love the changes of the seasons.

Whatever we feel, wherever we are, whoever we are... the seasons will change. Summer dissolves into Autumn, wilting away into Winter before Spring again breaks forth into the heat of Summer once more. The cycle is both consistently dependable yet always new.

Perhaps this can point us to something higher. Someone higher. We're told that God is the same yesterday, today and forever. He never changes, he is dependable, he is good and true. And yet his mercies are new every day, there is always something more to learn or experience.

I wonder if you'd like to reflect over this Autumn on the consistency and change of life. Perhaps carve out a little intentional time to dwell on life. If you're feeling that things are a little chaotic and unpredictable, take it to the God who is dependable and constant. Allow him to provide the stability you need at this time. But if you're feeling that too much is the same it's always been, perhaps ask God to speak of his plans and purposes, to show you that there is always something new in store for our everyday. Life with God is an exciting journey, and one I would invite everyone to explore.

CHURCH NEWS

Harvest Festivals

I would like to thank everyone who worked so hard to host and organise Harvest lunches and suppers across our villages. They were all such fun and joyful occasions. I'd also like to thank everyone that contributed to the harvest collections in church. All the produce has been sent on to a variety of local organisations including the various food banks and The Camrose Centre.

Rev Simon Butler

Remembrance Sunday services (November 12th)

The services on Remembrance Sunday in our local churches are:

10.00am Upton Grey – Remembrance Service

10.45am Herriard – Remembrance Service

5.00pm Tunworth – Remembrance Evensong

Please also see the notice in the 'News From The Villages' section of this magazine showing all the Remembrance Sunday services in the North Hampshire Downs Benefice.

Christmas Services

Although various supermarkets have beaten us to it by displaying advent calendars and tinsel from early September (what are they thinking?!) your church is also well under way with planning and preparation for Christmas.

Across our benefice we have services and events for all ages through the month of December. If you prefer something traditional then why not try out Advent Carols at Herriard or one of our many candle-lit Lessons and Carols services in the four villages? If family fun is your thing then we have lots of all-age provision with Christingle services and Nativity services.

We have a wonderful late-night communion service on Christmas eve, this year at St Mary's Upton Grey, and of course a Christmas morning service in each village.

No matter who you are, whether you're a regular church go-er or an occasional visitor, we would love to see you to share some Christmas cheer. If you're new to any of our villages then join us, meet some fellow residents and get stuck in to our joyful Christmas traditions!

Service details and times are published on the next page of this magazine and displayed on posters and flyers around the villages.

Rev Simon Butler (Benefice Rector)

KidsZone

Hi again everyone!

I wonder if you have any favourite memories? These memories might be happy, scary, sad or exciting. They might be your favourite day out, a particular present or people you have met... Because I'm so old, I have loads! Maybe my favourite was the day I met my absolute hero – Desmond Tutu. If you've never heard of him, Google him now. He was a South African Bishop who spent his life fighting injustice in his homeland. One day, way back in 1997, I went to a very early church service and he gave me communion. I'm not sure anything will ever be more special! I wonder what your favourite memory is...

It's really important to remember things that have happened. As we get older, memories become more and more special – especially if it's of people you don't see any more... Let's play a game! Here is a picture of 20 things. Set a timer for one minute and look at it very carefully. Then cover the picture up and see how many you can remember.

It's easy to forget something that has happened in the past, but then something jogs our memories and reminds us of it. I wonder if you have ever been somewhere and brought back a souvenir, or if you have something which helps you remember someone?

I have a brass bugle that belonged to my Grandad. It's a bit battered, and not very shiny. It doesn't even work properly. But every time I see it, it reminds me of him.

Scan this QR code to watch the video – a day I'll always remember. How does this story make you feel? Why will Mr George always remember this day? In his story, Mr George came close to dying, but due to his quick thinking, he covered himself with cabbage leaves and survived.

Mr George's memorable day was one of great danger, followed by relief at still being alive. This is one type of memorable day, although hopefully none of us will have to experience such a day!

Mr George and many like him who have been involved in wars have shown great bravery and resourcefulness. Yet despite the difficult things that they have experienced, they can still be positive and cheerful. I wonder if you will ever see cabbage sitting on your plate in the same way again! Some people, however, find it difficult to adjust to everyday life because of their experiences. The days that we remember can affect each of us in different ways.

In the week around 11th November we will be remembering others who have fought and are fighting in wars in different parts of the world. I wonder how you will remember them... Will you wear a poppy, march in a parade, keep a minute's silence?

These soldiers are often risking their lives to bring peace to our world, giving up everything so we can live in a peaceful country. But God calls us all to be peacemakers – in the Bible, it even says 'Blessed are the peacemakers'. I wonder – how can you be a peacemaker today? Maybe see you at one of the Remembrance Services on 12th November!

See you next month!

November Farming News

I'm currently wading my way through the many piles of paperwork and unanswered emails that have amassed in my office. In fact, I've had to move to the dining room table as there's no room to work at my desk anymore. Sorry Claire! We've been flat out making the most of the late September / early October Indian summer with maize harvest, wheat planting and slurry spreading in this year's rare dry conditions. I feel like we're finally on top of all the field work for the first time since early Spring.

What a year it has been, the complete opposite to last. Whereas last year was extremely dry, which resulted in a very enjoyable stress free wheat harvest and straw baling but very limited grass growth and poor maize yields for the cows' feed, this year has been a real struggle to make decent dry grass silage because of the wet and cold spring which also made maize planting difficult. Wheat harvest and straw baling was incredibly stop-start and expensive because of the rain. On 20th and 21st September Dad measured 39mm and 21mm of rain, that's over 2 inches in 24 hours. On the plus side, grass growth throughout the year has been phenomenal and maize yields from our recently harvested crop have been some of the best ever. This was much needed as we had to replenish our depleted feed stocks after last year's poor yields.

Our heifers and dry cows (the cows on holiday before they calve) that are out in the fields have had plenty of lush grass to eat throughout the grazing season and, providing it doesn't get too wet, we should be able to keep these out until winter, housing them in December. The young calves that are in the barns already have had to get used to the changing daylight hours. When feeding them early the other day it was the first time I'd had to turn the lights on in the barn because of the darker mornings. These calves are three months old and have never seen an electric light before and thought it was great fun, if somewhat confusing, chasing their own shadows around.

I've just been out to see the builders who are finishing off a replacement barn to house our bulling heifers and dry cows. The old sheds that were there were wooden army huts that Dad and Grandpa put up in the late 1950's / early 1960's. Dad sold straw down to Dorset, and then dismantled Dorchester army barracks (he did ask, they were selling them off!) and loaded them onto the empty lorries for the return journey. They then erected them back here at the farm and adapted them for cow housing. Their second life as cow sheds had lasted a very respectable 60 years, but they were beginning to look like the ship of Theseus in which most of the original parts had been replaced and they had developed a rather worrying lean. The new barn will provide the cows with a much nicer environment, with one robot pushing up the feed and another robot ambling its way around the cows inside vacuuming up the poo.

So, with the rain lashing down, I'll head back to the office to try and dismantle another stack of emails before I start feeling like Mickey Mouse in the Sorcerer's Apprentice getting drowned not by brooms carrying water buckets but by the endless red tape. Joe Ives

Upton Grey Drama Group - Sell out Performance!Wow!! What a night we had! Upton Grey Drama Group performed Candied Peel on Saturday 14th October to a packed Village Hall.

All 100 tickets were sold out in anticipation of an evening of laughter and dramatic talent. And just as Sarah Gray (the Drama Group's late producer/director) had anticipated, a wonderful time was had by all.

All costs of the performance were covered by the Drama Group and so we are delighted to say money raised from ticket sales; bar profit and the sale of candied peel (!) meant that £2,500 was raised for Macmillan Cancer Support.

A great evening for a great cause! The Drama Group would like to thank all who attended - we would have looked even sillier without an audience - so thank you!
Alison BarkerYes, huge congratulations to the talented Upton Grey Drama Group for their successful performance of Candied Peel, dramatized in the form of a radio play, with the numerous characters reading from scripts. Played to a packed house, this worked brilliantly, and great fun was had by the cast and the enthusiastic audience alike.Set in the 1950s, Candied Peel is a Whodunnit with tongue in cheek, very suitable for the cast and the audience. It was the late Sarah Gray's idea to perform it as a radio play and she was the original producer, she who chose the play in the first place and inspired the cast.*Sarah's daughter Emily Veall will be running in the London Marathon to raise funds for Macmillan. ## St Mary's Upton Grey and St Michael's Basingstoke Ringing Outing - October 2023

History took place in St Mary's Upton Grey ringers' land as the first ringing outing for at least 40 years (according to Michael Church who must have surely only been in his teens for the last ringing outing ...) took place.

An intrepid band of ten ringers, from both St Mary's Upton Grey and also St Michael's Basingstoke wended their way to St Catherine's Wolverton. Once we arrived we all happily rang for the local woolly residents (sheep) for 45 minutes in a brick-clad tower that was built around a very old wooden bell frame.

From there the planning went marginally awry as we arrived somewhat early by 30 minutes to St Lawrence Church, Wootton St Lawrence, but it was all fine as it was a gorgeous day and there was plenty of locally made jam, marmalade and honey to buy in the church as well as a stunning etched window by Whistler to admire before we finally got ringing.

On to lunch at The Barley Mow, Oakley, and once some very good fish and chips had been eaten we then inadvertently split up – some going to All Saints, Monk Sherborne, and others (who WILL remain nameless) went to St Andrews, Sherborne St John, due (honestly guv) to a Google Maps error... All Saints has five bells that are in the 'wrong order' – i.e. the order is anti-clockwise instead of the more usual clockwise order of the bells, so our brains were immediately tested but yielded pretty good results.

Moving onto St Andrews – or some of us re-visiting St Andrews, Sherborne St John – once we climbed the very steep ladder, through the hatch we were then in a snug ringing room with a very handy peep window to the church, that must be incredibly useful for spotting brides arriving. The intrepid band was beginning to flag a little at this point – having all been gently encouraged to improve our ringing over the course of the day by our leader for the tour, Pete.

Finally, we arrived at our final tower, St John's, Mortimer, which has an even more snug ringing chamber, but kept in immaculate order and we rang out for the final 45 minutes to the footballers on the Common and sundry passers-by.

Many thanks, as well as Pete, to Giles, Lynne and Greg for running a tower each.

Everyone had a challenging – be it in ringing terms or navigating the lanes – and thoroughly enjoyable day and it will be an event that we won't wait for another 40 years to repeat – next year we hope to have our newbie ringers join us!

St Mary's Herriard with Winslade Harvest Festival 15th October

Thank you to everyone who helped decorate St Mary's for our Harvest Festival – from dahlias to cyclamen, to apples, quince, medlars and pumpkins every surface and ledge was given that special touch which is Harvest Festival! When you walked in the Church there was the most wonderful scent of flowers and apples. It was wonderful – thank you all very much indeed!

A massive thanks from us all must go to Licensed Lay Minister Suzanne Newcombe – it was a truly lovely service and during her sermon she even had all of us thoroughly enjoying a bit of ‘Countdown’ with the letters from HARVEST! Thank you Suzanne!

No service can be complete without our fantastic organists – many thanks to Rose Bell who played beautifully as always.

And finally thank you to everyone who brought harvest gifts – there was a fantastic amount of food taken over to the Odiham Food Bank the following day.

Harvest Supper 18th October

The Herriard Hub once again very kindly opened its doors to 80 villagers eager for a lovely supper and the spectacle which is ‘The Harvest Supper Auction’!

After an absolutely delicious supper Peter and Adrian (on particularly fine form!) kept us thoroughly entertained as they auctioned off all the produce, flowers, books, wine etc and enough apples for the whole of Basingstoke! Highest bids were for Gemma’s fruit cakes and Bill’s sloe gin – and the pink gloves were definitely the 2023 ‘Fifty Shades of Grey’ moment...

Thank you to everyone who came long – as always there was the most amazing atmosphere! And huge thanks to Peter and Adrian, to Jenny and Julie on the bar, and to the team for our fantastic supper! And to everyone who helped clear the chairs and tables etc at the end in super-quick time! What a brilliant night!

OTHER NEWS AND EVENTS

North Hampshire Downs Mothers' Union

November sees the start of the 16 days of activism for gender-based violence. This year Winchester Cathedral have offered Mothers' Union a chalet at their Christmas Market for a day to raise awareness of this issue. Members around the diocese will be helping out during the day at the chalet on Wednesday 29th November. If you are interested in helping us with this campaign, please let me know.

Mothers' Union has recently launched a new 'Rise Up' campaign to tackle the problem of domestic violence. The letters in 'Rise Up' stand for Respond, Inform, Support, Empower, Unite and Pray. The statistics about Domestic Abuse are shocking with an estimated 1.6 million women in this country experiencing domestic abuse every year. One in seven children and young people under the age of 18 will have lived with domestic violence at some point in their childhood. Domestic abuse affects people throughout society and at every stage of life. We must do everything we can to support and protect those who are vulnerable.

Our next branch meeting is on Monday 6th November at 7.30pm at the RAF Chaplaincy Centre. If you want to find out more about Mothers' Union or our branch, please contact Sue Murphy on 01252 845011 or sue@the-murphys.me.uk.

Singing with Passion

Hook Choral Society's autumn concert will be given on Saturday November 25th in St John's Church, London Road, Hook RG27 9EG at 7.30pm.

The concert will unfold a wonderfully varied soundscape, ranging from Pergolesi to Bruckner via Haydn, Schubert, Mendelssohn and Brahms.

Tickets are £15.00 (£13.50 for a group of four or more). They are available from www.hookchoral.co.uk or by phone from 07957 293641.

If you would like to have a foretaste of these pleasures, drop into a rehearsal any Tuesday evening from 7.45pm at St John's Church, London Road, Hook.

Luminosa to raise the roof with Haydn and Mozart

Alton based choir Luminosa is delighted to announce the first concert of the new season, on Saturday 25th November at Frensham Heights School, Farnham at 7.00pm. An exciting evening awaits, led by conductor Rebekah Abbott, with the turbulent Nelson Mass by Haydn, and the uplifting and sonorous Vespers by Mozart.

Generous sponsorship from Hattingley Valley Wines and Knight Frank allows tickets to be available at just £15 for adults (under 12s-£5), available on Ticketsource (www.luminosamusic.com). There will be a retiring collection in support of the work of The Fountain Centre, Guildford.

Basingstoke Choral Society

The choir will be performing the powerful Verdi Requiem off-score at 3.00pm on Sunday 26th November in the Anvil, Basingstoke, accompanied by the Docklands Sinfonia and the international soprano soloist Erica Eloff, all under the direction of David Gibson. Insights into the work will be available on social media in the weeks leading up to the concert.

First performed and conducted by Giuseppe Verdi in Milan in 1874, the Requiem has become one of the most popular choral works performed worldwide, including a performance in New York on the 20th anniversary of the 9/11 terrorist attack.

Tickets from £15 (under 16s £7); group purchase - buy 10 get 1 free are available on-line on the choral society's website: www.basingstoke-choral.org.uk and via the Anvil Box Office – 01256 844244 or www.box.office@anvilarts.org.uk. Annabet Chapman

What a pickle!

The clocks have gone back, and the days are distinctly shorter, but there is still plenty of time for the members of our u3a to enjoy themselves! We have had three new groups begin this term, Beginners Bridge, Beginners Tai Chi and, perhaps the most unusual, Pickleball.

“So, what”, I hear you say, “is pickleball?”

Well, it’s a hybrid sport that combines the skills and agility of table tennis, tennis and badminton but without having to run around quite so much. It’s played on a badminton court with a net slightly lower than a tennis court net and it uses ‘Paddles’ and air flow balls. The group aims for inclusivity and enjoyment over ‘out and out’ competitiveness and meets fortnightly at the Hart Leisure Centre on Friday afternoons.

Of course, the additional benefit of exercising in a group is the opportunity to socialise. The table tennis group, having worked off a few calories, were happy to reapply them afterwards with a lunch at a local restaurant!

Some of our groups are equally happy to exercise their brain cells. The History of World Civilisations group has set themselves some demanding projects this year. They will be considering important milestones such as the emergence of agriculture and early towns and civilizations in three very different areas; Mesopotamia (modern Iraq), the Indus Valley (modern Pakistan) and the rivers in China. However, they too, will enjoy refreshments and gossip during their meetings.

If you would like to know more about us, please visit our website. www.odihamu3a.org.uk

News from the Hospital

(The Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust includes hospitals in Andover, Basingstoke and Winchester)

The Lucy Letby case has hit national headlines and must be a real concern for prospective parents locally: could this be repeated in our own hospital? It is reassuring to note that not only is the mortality level regularly reviewed, in fact each death case is reviewed, but the Trust has in place arrangements to prevent a similar situation happening here. In addition, the Trust is ensuring all staff are able to speak up, however junior they might be, which was a major factor in the Letby case.

Patient safety and care is a top priority for the Trust, and whilst it may not be helpful for those admitted for urgent treatment, the Trust will shortly be adding a YouTube video to its website which will be of real value to those being admitted for elective procedures. This video covers a wide range of issues, including making sure one understands what is being said by staff, preventing side effects, such as falls or blood clots and infections, to being willing to ask for help when needed. At the same time the Trust is working hard to instil a patient caring culture in all staff, and as the citations for many of the 'Wow' awards confirm (awards to staff for going well beyond normal expectations), we have some amazing examples of this.

By now most people are aware that a new hospital is planned locally with public consultation anticipated in the near future. Lord Markham, Parliament Under Secretary for Health and Social Care, recently visited Basingstoke to help understand the need for change. He met with both staff and patient representatives and was able to give the assurance that as the plan for a rolling renewal of hospitals across the country had been developed with wide cross-party involvement in Westminster, any change of government would be unlikely to affect the programme.

He went on to explain that the planned construction methodology was to undertake considerable work off site, using a bring-to-site ‘pod’ system. Not only did he highlight the benefits this gives to future flexibility of layout as healthcare needs change over the years, but this method also gains from better cost control, faster construction and cost savings from standardisation, as well as protection from programme delays from adverse weather. He further emphasised that by spreading the programme over a long period, for example about 20 years, this would enable suppliers to invest appropriately with further productivity gains. He stressed that based upon benefits now achieved by Trusts with new hospitals, full digitisation of patient information was already improving productivity.

It is now widely recognised that the NHS is in crisis, its current budget is nearly one third of all the money the Government collects from us in taxation, and many don’t see additional funds as making any improvements. With many now opting to go private, whilst there is real concern that public health provision will decline, it shows that those better off are prepared to spend more on their health. For example:

- Does the NHS need radical surgery? For example, do we in this country need to move more to the continental system with nominal charges for its use – clearly with some mitigation for those less well off?
- Does it need to be split into more manageable units?
- How do we fix primary care where each GP surgery is a private business, because to become a partner, capital is required to purchase a share – not something young doctors with high student loans have in abundance?

As mentioned above, it is planned that the public consultation for the new hospital will start shortly. Whilst there will be some negative comments on the options, the Trust will really appreciate positive suggestions on how the options might be improved. It is however hoped that many more people engage in the consultation than the under 300 people who participated in recent governor elections which covered a population approaching 200,000!

Likewise, the election of governors will be taking place starting at the end of October. Governors represent patient interests to the hospital management, so this is a vital role. Why not become a Trust member? This not only entitles you to vote, but it will also give you more up to date information and help you to play a part at this critical time. To register go to <https://www.hampshirehospitals.nhs.uk/membership>.

Hampshire and IoW wildlife Trust – Mammal mysteries

Mammals are all around us, from mice to voles to deer and foxes. From Hampshire & Isle of Wight Wildlife Trust nature reserves to parks, and our gardens. But how often do you see them? Most mammals like to stay hidden, and they're very good at it.

However, even the stealthiest species leave clues. Look around and you'll see tell-tale signs of these animals' hidden presence. Some are obvious, like large piles of droppings, and others more subtle, like nibbled pinecones. One of the most exciting things to find are footprints.

Foxes have four toes, and their footprint forms a neat diamond with a triangular foot pad, toes around the sides and front, and two claws forming a point at the front. Their droppings are also dog-like in shape, usually pointy at one end, and full of fur, feathers, tiny bones, seeds and berries.

Badger feet have five toes, and their prints show a wide, squarish foot pad with five toes at the front with long claws (for digging). Prints are very robust and broad (6.5cm wide). Their front and back paws differ slightly: the front-paw marks have longer claw marks, while the back-paw marks show the inner toes to be a little further forward. Badgers follow the same routes when they're foraging, so leave well-worn trails across fields or exiting woods and hedges or along fences. They poo in shallow pits called latrines, and their droppings vary from firm and sausage-shaped, to soft and slimy.

Badger_tracks_(c)_Philip_Precey

Though there are several species of deer, their tracks are roughly the same shape, just different sizes. Muntjac tracks are around 3cm long, whilst red deer tracks are up to 9cm long. Deer walk on tiptoes, so you only usually see two long pointed toe prints side-by-side, with no claws or foot pad. Deer droppings are smooth, shiny dark pellets; pointed at one end and often stuck together in clusters.

Deer_footprint_in_snow_(c)_Amy_Lewis

Rabbit prints are oval-shaped, and their four feet form a triangle – you won't really notice separate paw marks. It's often easier to find rabbits by looking for their little round pellet droppings on lawns and fields.

Rabbit_tracks_2_(c)_Amy_Lewis

As a nation of pet lovers, there are millions of cats and dogs prints around so telling them apart from wildlife prints is key. Although dogs vary wildly in size, their prints are often around 3-5cm wide with four toes and big claw marks. Cat prints are generally 2-3cm wide and have no claw marks.
