BENEFICE MAGAZINE – October 2026
Edition for the Parishes of Herriard with Winslade, Tunworth, Upton Grey and Weston Patrick

Letter from the Benefice Ministry Team

A Harvest That Has Come Early

After months - quite literally - of no rain, soaring temperatures and long hours of sunshine, we can't fail to have noticed that harvest arrived early this year. The maize in the field at the bottom of our garden was harvested in mid August whereas in past years this has been in October or even early November. We have two apple trees in the garden; for the first time ever one has no fruit at all and the other has just two apples clinging on.

Harvest is one of those occasions in the Church calendar which connects us very directly with the world around us. Long before our churches began to celebrate Harvest Festival, people understood the importance of the rhythm of sowing and reaping, growth and gathering, and giving thanks for the fruits of the earth. The writer of Ecclesiastes reminds us that there is "a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted" (Ecclesiastes 3:2). This year, it seems, that time has come rather sooner than usual.

And yet harvest is about more than the date on the calendar. It invites us to pause and recognise that, for all our technology, planning and hard work, there remains much that is beyond our control. We can cultivate the soil, sow the seed and tend the crops, but we cannot make them grow.

That truth lies at the heart of our traditional harvest hymns. We sing We plough the fields, and scatter the good seed on the land, remembering that all good gifts around us are sent from heaven above. We sing Come, ye thankful people, come, calling us to gather before God in gratitude. And we sing All things bright and beautiful, celebrating the goodness of creation and the God who gives us so much to enjoy.

The early harvest this year also reminds us that creation doesn't always follow the timetable we expect. Rainfall, sunshine and temperature all play their part, and changing weather patterns are increasingly significant. Harvest can therefore be both a celebration and a prompt to consider how carefully we are called to steward God's creation.

So, as our churches celebrate Harvest this year, perhaps we can give thanks not only for the food that sustains us, but for the people, places and relationships that sustain our communities. Let's remember those whose harvests have been difficult, those facing food insecurity, and those who work tirelessly to put food on our tables. Most of all, let's receive this early harvest as an invitation to gratitude. The season may have come sooner than expected, but God's faithfulness hasn't changed. As James 1:17 NIV reminds us, "Every good and perfect gift is from above".

Let's give thanks with both joy and humility; for the fields, the gardens and the hedgerows; for farmers and growers and all whose work brings food to our tables; for the beauty of creation; and above all for the God who sustains us. As the familiar hymn reminds us:

"All good gifts around us
Are sent from heaven above;
Then thank the Lord, O thank the Lord,
For all His love."

Happy Harvest! Revd Linda Scard

Dealing with big feelings
As you read this, we are in the middle of a change of season. The shorter days, the colder mornings and evenings, as well as the crunchy brown, yellow and red leaves under foot, all signal the change from summer to autumn.

Change - and our feelings towards it - is a theme we are exploring this term in our assemblies and acts of worship in schools in our Benefice. The start of a new school year brings with it much change: schools, classes, teachers, friends and much more.

We all need a little change in our lives, otherwise things can get quite boring quite quickly, but depending on our personality, outlook and experiences, we can respond to change differently to others. For some people, change can bring a sense of excitement and curiosity, while for others it can feel stressful and scary. And that's ok.

It's important to acknowledge that there are no bad feelings. Your feelings are there to help you and, often, to protect you. For example, fear is very helpful when you come across an angry dog in the street. Fear tells you to 'Stay Away!'

But sometimes our feelings can outstay their welcome or become so big that it's hard for us to see much else. Here's a few things that might help you to understand your feelings better and how to care well for yourself when you're having some BIG feelings…

- Be curious about your feelings and don't judge them. Ask your feelings some questions: How big are you? Where are you in my body? If you could speak, what would you say?
- Slow your breathing down. Breathe in for 3 seconds and breathe out for 4 seconds.
- Hum (yep, you read that correctly!). Humming stimulates the vagus nerve which runs from your brain to your gut and regulates your breathing, heart rate and other essential involuntary functions. Humming calms you down.
- Wiggle and move your body to get rid of that excess energy that strong feelings can leave in your body.
- Talk to someone you know and trust.

One final thing, but perhaps the most important…

Have a read of Psalm 16 (Contemporary English Version version). What does this say to you about our feelings and what to do with them? We can come to God with every emotion we are feeling. The God of wonder and delight meets us in our joy; the God of comfort meets us in our sadness; the God of forgiveness and healing meets us in our hurt and shame; the God of protection meets us in our fear. We can trust God to care for us in every season of life.

NEWS FROM THE VILLAGES

Farming News – September 2026

Harvest was over in record time beating last year's record by two weeks! Wrapping up the last of the spring barley on the 24th of July by lunchtime, which left us only one more job to do, and that was to take the team for a well-earned pint to mull over another harvest safely gathered.

Yields were down due to the lack of rain, but the hot dry weather has made for easier harvesting conditions. One obstacle that we haven't had to worry too much about in the past is the risk of fires, but this year was a high risk. It reminded me of when I helped harvesting in Australia one year. They will enforce a 'harvest ban', which is exactly what it sounds like, no harvesting operations are permitted due to the high risk of fires, which could start from the smallest of sparks. There were several reports across the country of wildfires which took days or even weeks to get under control. I wonder if the weather continues with this pattern, we will see these sorts of bans in the UK?

The political unrest in the Black Sea is raising its head again; this has caused grain prices to climb. It is a much-needed price rise, although through unfortunate situations, but with yields down 20% we need all the help we can get to have a chance of covering our costs this year. The driver of this is that the main grain export ports have been heavily targeted, stopping grain from leaving the Ukraine. Along with this there are weather issues across the globe, mainly drought conditions which is knocking yields. Despite all this, there is still a surplus of grain globally from previous harvests which is why the grain prices have stayed relatively low. When you look at all our other costs which have inflated drastically, the grain prices have remained the same for the best part of 30 years!

In addition, political unrest in Iran has pushed fuel prices up to £1/litre for red diesel which is throwing another curve ball at us. It is making us question every operation we do as we begin to prepare seedbeds for the start of autumn sowing next year's harvest. For context, we are used to red diesel priced at roughly 60p/Litre.

As I write this, we have planted the oilseed rape and hybrid rye, and plan to have the wheat all drilled by the first week of October. Last year we had kind autumn drilling conditions, and it showed as the crops all looked well before heading into the wet Winter months. So, we will be aiming to do the same this year, to give the crops the best chance possible to get their roots down and hopefully survive whatever the Winter throws at us. That has been why this year has been disappointing, the crops looked well heading into Spring, but the lack of rain held it back from the full potential yields.

This year's oilseed rape (harvest 2027) is up and out of the soil which we now hope it can survive the early stages of growth which is when it is most vulnerable to slugs, flea beetles and bird grazing. With warm and wet conditions this should grow quickly.

I'm conscious that my article is fitting the stereotypical 'moaning farmer' so I will end this article with the optimism of what next year could bring and to keep pushing forward to make sure we are resilient to whatever is put in front of us to produce high-quality food.

Upton Grey Autumn Festival Bonfire, Fireworks and Halloween Spectacular (in the afternoon) and Evening Dining and Entertainment - Saturday 31st October

Our Autumn Festival occurs on Halloween this year so, in addition to our normal Bonfire, Fireworks and Disco we are putting on a special Halloween event for kids from 3.00pm in the afternoon in a large Marquee and Gazebos in the back garden of the Hodd.

Events include a Halloween fancy dress competition, Halloween disco dancing competition, Halloween Arts & Crafts, a conker competition, snail racing, apple bobbing and pumpkin bowling.

Food and drink will be available throughout the afternoon but reservations and pre ordering of meals will be required for dinner in the Main Restaurant or supper in the Marquee. This is so that food can be served promptly with no queueing, unlike in previous years. If you are not dining in the evening, you are still very welcome to enjoy the disco in the Marquee.

At 6.00pm a procession will gather at the Hodd where mulled wine will be served and then our church bell ringers will ring an Autumn Peal as the procession leads us onto the Hoddington Estate for the Bonfire and then professional Firework display. Next, back to the Hodd for dining and a disco in the Marquee.

Be sure to invite your friends or family down for the day for this great event. Tickets for the bonfire and fireworks are available from the Hodd with credit card or cash. £10 per adult, £5 per child. Bonfire and firework tickets are also available, cash only, from the village shop or Roger Clark, rogerclark@btinternet.com, 01256 862 776.

You can now also purchase tickets online at www.ticketsource.com . Enter event as Upton Grey Autumn Festival.

All evening reservations for a table for dinner in the main restaurant or supper in the marquee and to pre order your food must be made in advance to the Hodd via over the bar, telephone 01256 862 371, or preferably email bookings@hoddingtonarms.co.uk or online www.hoddingtonarms.co.uk

A limited number of tickets will also be available at the gate to the Hoddington Estate via credit card or cash but please purchase them in advance in order to speed up entrance to the field.

Thanks to Carters Marquees for being our headline sponsor this year.

All profits from the day's events go to St. Michael's Hospice – a very well deserving charity.

Car parking for all events is free in Church Meadow, RG25 2RA

Upton Grey Autumn Festival Volunteers needed for October 2026
Volunteers would be very much appreciated to help erect and disassemble four gazebos and load up tables and chairs from and back to the Village Hall. It will be on the Friday afternoon (30/10) when we will transport the Village Hall's tables and chairs by estate car and assemble four gazebos and on the Sunday morning (01/11) - could be afternoon if required - when we return tables and chairs to the Village Hall and disassemble the gazebos. Any help would be very much appreciated, please contact Roger Clark on 01256 862 776 or email rogerclark@btinternet.com

Guy Fawkes and Jack O'Lanterns Competitions
It is with regret that I have to announce that there will be no Guy Fawkes or Jack O'Lantern competitions this year. Although these competitions have bought great pleasure and particularly to the younger ones, unfortunately a few of our village lads have taken to vandalising some of them each year. This has been very upsetting, particularly to the younger ones, and I now judge that the upset outweighs the initial pleasure. Individuals are of course welcome to display Guys or Pumpkins as they desire but there will be no official competition. Roger Clark

St. Mary's, Upton Grey Ringing Outing 2026
The merry St. Mary's band of bell ringers had their annual outing on 12th September, this time venturing further afield, just beyond Alresford.

There were thirteen of us in the group, and we visited five towers in Cheriton, Droxford, Soberton, Bishops Waltham and Wickham – all very different and all set in stunning locations. Part of the joy of ringing outings is visiting places that you might not visit otherwise. These villages are only about thirty minutes down the road and well worth a day trip yourselves.

The fun of these tours is trying your hand at different bells, the most unique of which was the tower in Droxford that had five bells (the others had six or eight) and rang anti-clockwise – this was a big test to our brains. After this we went for a very well-deserved lunch at The White Lion in Soberton which was delicious. Funnily enough we met another band of ringers there from Havant who were doing a similar tour to us, but the other way round.

Amazingly there were no mishaps this time around and we managed to leave all towers intact so might be invited back again!

The day was rounded off with delicious brownies baked by Brenda.

If you would like to have a go at bell ringing and maybe come on the jaunt next year (not compulsory, I might add) – then please contact either Michael Church on 07802 383759 or Rachel Dulai on 07725 811422. Practice nights are on Thursdays.

Basingstoke Choral Society Presents an Evening with The Haydn Brothers, Sunday 15th November 7.30pm, The Anvil, Basingstoke

Joseph Haydn's glorious Nelson Mass is one of the finest choral works of the Classical era. Full of drama, beauty and exhilarating moments of triumph, it remains one of his most loved and uplifting masterpieces. The programme also offers the rare chance to hear music by Michael Haydn, Joseph's younger brother. A gifted composer whose music was greatly valued by Mozart, Michael Haydn is rarely performed today, making this an opportunity to discover a beautiful and unjustly neglected work. The conductor will be Jordan Theis with the Orchestra, The Docklands Sinfonia.

Programme: Joseph Haydn Nelson Mass, Michael Haydn Requiem.

North Hampshire National Trust Centre (NHNTC)

Our long-standing Honorary Secretary, Jonathan Hughes, recently delivered a lecture on the history and working of NHNTC.

The NHNTC was founded in 1985 with a membership of 975 and has had six Chairs in the past 31 years. Jonathan told us something of the important figures who included Paddy Mendham and his wife Annis - from 2007 to 2019 - who saved the Centre when it was struggling. And he told us of some of the memorable Secretaries who have supported the Chairs over the lifespan of the Centre.

Over its three decades the Centre has been remarkably active with a scores of holidays, 367 trips and countless lectures. Holiday destinations have included Essex, Yorkshire, Scotland, Northern Ireland and even New Zealand. Visits have taken us to The Brighton Royal Pavillion, Arundel Castle, a Thames River Cruise, Ham House, Kew Gardens, both Oxford and Cambridge Universities and numerous other destinations. Among the more memorable Lectures were the history of Winchester, The Battle of Jutland, who wrote Shakespeare's works, sex scandals of the Royal Court, cycling across Jordan and Cuba - and the terrible story of the disgraceful treatment of our post masters and postmistresses, a still unresolved scandal.

The NHNTC lives for not only for the entertainment of its members – it also earns money and donates its surplus to the National Trust, with the request that this goes mainly to our mother ship, The Vyne. Over the years we have donated over £100,000 and funded such projects at the Vyne as the renovation of the summerhouse, the refurbishment of the upper room in the Brewhouse and provision of buggies to help less mobile visitors to make the journey from the carpark to the main house.

If you are interested in joining us either as committee or ordinary members, please visit www.nhntc.com and sign up – we look forward to welcoming you.

Every adult that wants to learn to read, can!

Many of us have been incredibly fortunate when it comes to learning to read and, as adults, it is certainly something we take for granted. However, this is not the case for all, and many adults are both deeply embarrassed and ashamed by the fact that they struggle significantly with reading. As a result, they often harbour painful memories of school and would naturally avoid returning to a formal classroom setting at all costs, where old feelings of personal failure could potentially be reawakened.

The 'Skills for Life Survey' (Dept. BIS, 2011) clearly identified that some 2.4 million adults in England alone can barely read or cannot read at all. In Basingstoke and the surrounding local area, it is estimated that well over 7,000 individual adults struggle to read and need support to improve their basic reading skills. These are conservative estimates however and could potentially be higher.

Ginny William-Ellis MBE spent many dedicated years working as a literacy tutor and was responsible for running the highly successful Shannon Trust's prisoner-to-prisoner reading programme. Through this, she saw how a confidential, individual approach could encourage people to come forward for support and successfully learn to read. Ginny also became fully aware of the huge number of adults who struggle with even the most basic level of reading, not just in prisons, but across the population at large. As a direct result, she quickly realised that there was much more vital work to do and so in 2010, she founded the very first Read Easy group. Today there are over 100 local groups set up and run by passionate volunteers under the Read Easy banner. Read Easy Basingstoke was proudly set up in July 2019.

Read Easy since then has continued tirelessly to help adults to completely transform their lives by learning to read and strongly believes that 'every adult that wants to learn to read, can'. Read Easy groups at a local level achieve this by training volunteers to provide personalised, one-to-one reading coaching that is free and entirely confidential, both in-person and online. Due to a recent expansion in Management Team members and volunteers, Read Easy Basingstoke wants to help even more adults gain greater agency and autonomy over their own lives through better reading skills.

If you know someone who could benefit from our free services or if you would like to volunteer, more information and contact details may be found on our website https://readeasy.org.uk/groups/basingstoke/. we would love to hear from you!

Odiham Voluntary Care Group Needs Drivers!

If you would you be prepared to join us as a volunteer to support those in several local villages in need of transport to medical appointments?
We are also looking for a Treasurer (about two hours a week on average).
Please contact 07551 587862 if you can help.

Free Course in Alton Helps People to Kick Bad Habits

The Harvest Church in Alton is offering free, non-judgmental support to local people so that they can overcome damaging habits and start again - through a course called Fresh Start.

That might be something like smoking, over-eating, catalogue shopping, internet or mobile phone addiction, gambling, drinking or using drugs – in fact any habit which once might have brought us comfort or fun, but is now controlling or spoiling our daily living.

Fresh Start is for anyone who feels that it's time to cut down or stop. This is so hard to do on your own, so the course leaders support you in a small group setting where everyone is fighting similar situations and can encourage one another in a confidential environment. They also offer one-to-one coaching.

This free course is inspired by the tried-and-tested 12-steps approach and lasts nine weeks. It has run 21 times in the Alton area. Many group members find a place to belong and make lasting friendships.

For more detail, see https://harvestchurch.uk/fresh-start

After previous local courses, a man tackling an internet addiction said: "I'd like to thank you…for putting on the Fresh Start course and helping me achieve my goals...I am very grateful for the work you did with us." Another, tackling a gambling addiction, said: "It's the best thing I ever did. It saved my marriage. It saved my children from probably leaving me with my wife; it saved me from me. Without this course, I would never have been where I am today: I would probably have been in a worse hole, or even dead." A woman now in recovery from alcohol addiction said: "I wouldn't be where I am today, if I hadn't come on Fresh Start".

The next course will start on Thursday 1st October, 10.30am at Alton Maltings. So, if you, or anyone you know, needs a fresh start, register for the course by calling Mark on 07769 030913 or email freshstart@harvestchurch.uk .

Anyone living with a Stoma, their partners/friends and those who may be facing such surgery in the future for reasons such as Bowel Cancer, Colitis Crohns, blood clots or other traumas are welcome.
